

COLD FOOD MANAGER VOLUNTEER POSITION

Cold Food Manager comes into CROSS on Mondays and Thursdays before we open, to get the cold food and produce ready for the day. This food is in the cooler and the freezer and from Coborns, most of the time there is a lot of it. It will be hauled out and sort it by dept. and weighed, recording the weight. The food is then set out and displayed for shopping. This job does require some lifting.

Freezer and cooler organization and inventory is also another responsibility. The inventory will be shared with the Food Supply Manager before she orders twice a month from Second Harvest food bank. After the CROSS is open for the day, manager will continue to stock the produce, dairy and meat shelves, help some of the volunteers with food orders, especially when busy, help with lifting, be ready to receive any food donations that come in, sometimes food drives. Unless it is a really slow day, they will be pretty busy all the while we are open.

The truck that comes from the food bank, Second Harvest, has a load for us two times a month, The Manager will be there receiving and organizing the meat, cheese, milk and produce that comes in. Thankful for Kevin who comes in and helps with a lot of the lifting and carrying of heavy boxes that come in on that truck. Again, this job does require some lifting. Crates of milk are about 41 pounds. It does keep a person in shape..!!
